Remittance facilities for indigenous bankers.

Fort St. George, August 28, 1940
(G.O. No. 222, Finance).

No. 79.

The following notification of the Reserve Bank of India is published:—

Under the new scheme for the extension of remittance facilities in India formulated by the Reserve Bank of India, with the approval of the Central and Provincial Governments, special rates for remittances have been proposed for indigenous bankers who fulfil the conditions prescribed in this behalf by the Reserve Bank in consultation with the Provincial Governments and who are placed on an approved list by the Bank on the recommendation of the Provincial Governments. The following table shows the concession rates for telegraphic transfers, drafts and mail transfers which will be made available to approved indigenous bankers and compares them with those for the general public under the new scheme:—

A. For the general public.	B. For approved indigenous bankers.
I. Up to Rs. 5,000—¼ per cent (minimum exchange for telegraphic transfers Re. 1 and for drafts and mail transfers As. 4).	I. Up to Rs. 5,000—1/16 per cent (minimum Re. 1).
II. Over Rs. 5,000—3/16 per cent (minimum exchange Rs. 5-4-0).	II. Over Rs. 5,000—1/32 per cent (minimum exchange Rs. 3-2-0).

N.B.—Actual telegram charges will be charged in addition in the case of telegraphic transfers both for indigenous bankers and the general public. Limits to drafts and mail and other details can be had at the Reserve Bank or its agencies on request.

2. The following conditions are prescribed for indigenous bankers who wish to avail themselves of the above-mentioned concession rates:—

(i) Only those persons and firms will be included in the term Indigenous banker who accept deposits and/or discount hundies with joint stock or other banks primarily with a view to making loans and who are placed on the approved list of the Reserve Bank for this purpose. Just as section 277-F of the Indian Companies Act allows banks to undertake certain necessary ancillary work, there would be no objection to a banker having any other business so long as it is clear that banking is his main business. On the other hand, those whose main occupation is something else like agriculture or shopkeeping or trade will not be considered as bankers even though they may accept deposits and lend money as a subsidiary business.

(ii) An indigenous banker to be qualified for inclusion in the approved list must have a minimum owned capital of Rs. 50,000.

(iii) An approved indigenous banker must conform to any moneylending regulation applicable to him that may be in force in the province.

(iv) A banker (a) who appears to have ceased to comply with the definition in (i) above or (b) whose owned capital is known to have fallen below Rs. 50,000 or (c) who infringes provincial legislation regulating his transactions in such a way as to make it undesirable in the opinion of the Provincial Government that he should receive the concession, shall be liable to be removed from the approved list.

3. Indigenous bankers who satisfy the above conditions and who desire to have their names included in the list of bankers to whom the concession rates will be made available, may make an application to the nearest Treasury or Sub-treasury Officer submitting all the necessary particulars in the form attached. The information supplied will be treated as quite confidential.

Madras Commerce Report for the month of July 1940.

Madras commodity markets continued to be weak and featureless during July, the index number of wholesale prices of commodities in the Province for the month working out to 106, i.e., five points below the index for the previous month. The index for the food-grains group remained stationary whilst the index for the commercial products group fell by nine points. The cotton market was quiet and prices of some varieties declined a little. The tanned cow hides market was weak during the early part of the month, but subsequently steadied up. Shipments of hides showed a considerable falling off as compared with the two previous months. Towards the end of the month there was an improvement in the demand for cow and buff calf. Business in the tanned goat and tanned sheep skins markets was very restricted in the absence of demand, shipments were on a very small scale and prices declined further. The groundnut market was featureless during the month except for one week when a slight improvement in enquiries from Northern India, resulted in a small increase in quotations. The outlook for groundnut continues obscure owing to the falling off in export demand. The price of castor seed at Anantapur continued at the same level as in the previous month. The price of gingelly seed at Trichinopoly rose slightly about the middle of the month and then eased. The demand for paddy and rice was normal and steady conditions prevailed in this market. The Calicut coir yarn market continued easy owing to the considerable decline in the foreign demand. The position of the coir industry on the West Coast is difficult owing to the closure of the foreign markets to which a considerable quantity of coir was formerly exported. The copra and coconut oil market was firm during the greater part of July as a result of satisfactory enquiries from upcountry districts, but in the last week of the month prices sagged owing to poor demand. The Calicut ginger market remained weak throughout the month in the absence of both Indian and European demand. Owing to moderate Indian demand, the Calicut pepper market improved and closed steady. The Madras sugar market opened steady with an improved demand, but the announcement that the negotiations for the export of Indian sugar had failed followed by a reduction in the basic prices by the Indian Sugar Syndicate, Limited, resulted in a heavy decline in prices, the market closing weak with little demand. The demand for locally manufactured acids and chemicals was normal. The price of fine cured Virginia tobacco at Guntur remained steady during the first half of the month, but then declined and continued at the lower level established, the average price being slightly lower than in the previous month. The price of local rack cured tobacco at Guntur fell sharply during the second week of July and after a further fall remained steady, the average price being considerably below the level in the previous month.

GROUNDNUT.

The groundnut market was dull during the greater part of the month, except for one period when there was a good local demand for crushing, an improvement in enquiries from Northern India and some buying on behalf of Rangoon interests. Although prices were standing a little higher at the end of July, the average price showed a fall as compared with the previous month. The average wholesale prices of standard varieties at the main producing centres were as follows:—

28th June 1940—Rs. 22-15-0 to Rs. 25.

26th July 1940—Rs. 22-8-0 to Rs. 27.

PADDY AND RICE.

The demand for paddy and rice was normal and prices ruled steady throughout the month. The average wholesale prices of standard varieties at the main producing centres were as follows —

Indian paddy per bag of 170 lb

28th June 1940—Rs. 5-12-0 to Rs. 5-4-1.

26th July 1940—Rs. 5-14-0 to Rs. 5-4-9.

Indian rice per bag of 170 lb

28th June 1940—Rs. 7-12-0 to Rs. 9-8-0.

26th July 1940—Rs. 8-10-0 to Rs. 9-2-0.

Rangoon rice—raw, broken A-1, per bag of 220 lb.

30th June 1940—Rs. 9-14-0, Madras.

31st July 1940—Rs. 9-13-0, Madras

Calcutta rice (Nagina) boiled per bag of 164 lb

30th June 1940—Rs 9, Madras.

31st July 1940—Rs. 8-4-0, Madras.

COCONUT PRODUCTS.

The market for Quilandy and Beypore soaked coir yarns, and for Calicut fine unsoaked, Kollam and Perpengadi yarns, opened weak, but due chiefly to poor arrivals, the market improved nominally and closed steady At the commencement of the month the market for copra and coconut oil was firm supported by satisfactory enquiries from Northern India, and later in the month continued demand from upcountry districts resulted in a slight increase in prices Towards the end of July, however, prices sagged owing to poor demand

COTTON.

Tinnevellies.—The second-crop began to move and there was a fair turnover, though South Indian mills were the only buyers at prices ranging from Rs. 170 to Rs. 190 per candy of 784 lb. There was little left of good quality first crop and no business is reported to have been transacted.

Cambodia.—Second-crop arrivals were received South Indian mills were the only buyers and prices ranged from about Rs 200 to Rs. 225.

SUGAR.

The Madras market opened steady with improved demand. Owing to a reduction in stocks of dry sugars, dealers pushed up prices slowly to about the level of replacement costs, and some dealers were interested in purchasing ready sugars in small quantities to meet their immediate requirements. Just when the market was recovering, the announcement that negotiations for the export of Indian sugar had failed caused a reaction and prices declined. This was followed by a reduction of Rs 2-8-0 per maund in the basic prices by the Indian Sugar Syndicate, Limited. This reduction came as a complete shock and caused panic and confusion in all markets. Prices declined heavily and the market closed quiet with little demand. The price of Nellikuppam sugar was Rs. 22-4-0 per bag of two cwts at the end of July as compared with Rs. 33 at the end of June. West Coast markets were dull as a result of restricted demand during the monsoon. The markets were completely upset by the reductions of prices by the Indian Sugar Syndicate, Limited, and dealers were sellers at the best available prices for fear of incurring further losses. Similar conditions prevailed in other markets. Generally all sugar dealers were badly hit by the sudden reduction in sugar prices and hesitated to purchase, preferring to wait until conditions became more stable.

HIDES AND SKINS.

Tanned hides.—During the earlier part of July, the hides market continued weak with holders anxious sellers About the middle of the month, however, a better enquiry was received from London and the market gradually steadied up. This state of affairs continued and with holders taking a more favourable view of the situation in Europe, prices in some cases recovered as much as half a penny per lb. In view of the recent decline in prices, several meetings of the Jamath were held during the month in an endeavour to find ways of improving the situation Finally at a meeting held on the 30th July, it was decided to reduce soaks at the yards to 40 per cent of their normal output. It was also decided to establish minimum c.i.f. selling prices to remain in force for a fortnight, and holders were asked not to sell in the market below the equivalent of the prices fixed During the latter part of the month there was an improvement in the demand for both cow and buff calf.

Tanned goat and tanned sheep skins.—Business in both these markets was probably worse than in June although stocks were not piling up in Madras owing to the reduced soakings of tanners. The introduction of Import Licences in the United Kingdom had the effect of restricting shipments which were on a very small scale. The amount of trade from the United States of America was smaller than in June and was done at a decline of about 2d. to 3d. per lb. It was almost impossible to quote prices in Madras for either tanned goats or tanned sheep at the end of the month. The public auctions in London which had been postponed from the 17th June to the 29th July took place as arranged and the offerings were approximately 313,000 tanned goat and 693,000 tanned sheep. The results were very disappointing although no more than could have been expected Only 16 per cent of the tanned goat offerings were disposed of and prices were extremely irregular It is estimated that on lots sold, prices depreciated by about 30 per cent. On the other hand, certain average weights, especially stouts, seemed to sell well at a comparatively small decline. There was also a fair demand for first light weights. In tanned sheep, only 163,000 were disposed of, representing 24 per cent of the total quantity offered, at an average of 10d to 1s. per lb. lower. Here again the demand was confined to first and second light weights in prime tannages. Fair tannages, ordinary tannages and lower grades were unsaleable.
